

MINICON 2016 PAINTING COMPETITION

The Monoliths

Women and Children First!

Entries must represent females or children of their species. They may be warrior women, civilians, sorceresses, humans, orcs, elves, aliens... whatever you like. The only requirement is that the entry is visibly and identifiably either female or juvenile or both.

As in previous years, we do expect all entries to have at least some reflection of the theme. Entries that do not will not be considered for prizes.

SIZE RESTRICTIONS

Entries may comprise one or more models and should be between 1/107 (15mm) and 1/40 (40mm) in scale. They must be mounted on a base no larger than 60mm square and measure no more than 30cm tall at their highest point.

PRIZES

There will be three prizes: gold, silver and bronze monoliths for the first, second and third place entries. Please note that monoliths are not actual metal! We are also very much open to additional competition sponsorship from retailers, manufacturers and designers.

ENTRY FEE

There is an entry fee of £2.00 per entry. Please note, however, that 100% of the entry fee is going towards our charity pool. The costs of the prizes have been covered by our sponsors.

JUDGING

Judging will primarily be based upon the quality of painting, but the degree to which entries reflect the competition's theme will also be considered. Imaginative conversions and original sculptures may attract the judges' particular attention but will not form the basis of judging.

DISCLAIMER

To fully judge the competition entries it is necessary to pick them up and move them around. Whilst every effort will be taken to ensure that no damage is done to entries and that they are kept safe, they are entered at the owner's own risk. The judges, and the MiniCon organizers accept no responsibility for any loss of or damage to entries.
